

For Students

Slate.org is a free platform for school counselors, colleges, community-based organizations, and students with a commitment to supporting and promoting access to higher education. Register for a free account at www.slate.org

Manage Your Profile

Update your contact information, academic profile, email and privacy preferences. Self-report school information, such as GPA and rank to be verified by your school counselor. Opt in to sharing your Slate.org profile with colleges and universities.

Communicate with Counselors

Help keep everyone on the same page. Invite your counselor(s) to view your application statuses, checklist requirements, and decisions shared in Slate.org. Work with a CBO or college access counselor? Invite them to have a read-only view of your application information.

Register for College Visits

Sign up for open visits posted by your school in Slate.org. Respond to visit invitations and sync your Slate.org visit calendar with external calendars.

Student Data Is Never Bought or Sold | Free, Now and Forever